BIDDING BEAUTY

What if every time you purchased something, a percentage would go to a good cause? At biddingforgood.com, it does.

We found this neat Web site that has a number of cosmetic treatments and beauty tools up for auction, but the best part is that it brings together shoppers and non-profit organizations. Find spa and skin-care procedures, gift certificates and other beauty items, and a percentage of the proceeds from your purchase will benefit causes including animal welfare, education and the environment.

All you have to do is type the word "beauty" in the search field.
